

Terms of Service for MC-Server-Bot

Last Updated: 16-09-2025

1. Acceptance of Terms

By adding and using MC-Server-Bot ("the Bot") on your Discord server, you agree to comply with and be bound by these Terms of Service. If you do not agree to these terms, do not use the Bot. Your continued use of the Bot constitutes your acceptance of these terms and any future updates.

2. Use of the Bot

The Bot is provided to assist you with tracking a Minecraft Java Edition server. You agree to use the Bot only for its intended purpose and in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations, including Discord's Terms of Service and Community Guidelines.

You agree not to use the Bot for any of the following:

- Any illegal or unauthorized purpose.
- Harassing, threatening, or otherwise violating the legal rights of others.
- Interfering with or disrupting the Bot or its related services.
- Attempting to gain unauthorized access to any part of the Bot or its services.

3. Disclaimers

The Bot is provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis without any warranties of any kind, either express or implied, including, but not limited to, the implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or non-infringement. We do not guarantee that the Bot will be available, accurate, or error-free at all times.

4. Limitation of Liability

In no event shall the Bot's developer be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages, including but not limited to, loss of profits, data, or other intangible losses, resulting from:

- Your use of or inability to use the Bot.
- Any conduct or content of any third party on the Bot.
- Any unauthorized access to or use of your data.

5. Intellectual Property

The Bot, including its source code, design, and all related intellectual property, is owned by the developer. You are not granted any intellectual property rights in the Bot beyond the right to use it as provided in these terms.

The Bot's source code is open-source and available on GitHub. The use of the source code is governed by the MIT License, which can be found in the repository. The Terms of Service here apply to your use of the Bot as a service on Discord and are distinct from the open-source license governing the code itself.

6. Termination

We reserve the right to suspend or terminate your access to the Bot at any time, for any reason, without notice. We may terminate your access if you violate any of these Terms of Service. All provisions of the Terms which by their nature should survive termination shall survive termination, including, without limitation, disclaimers, and limitations of liability.

7. Governing Law

These Terms of Service are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Maldives, without regard to its conflict of law provisions.

8. Changes to These Terms

We reserve the right to modify these Terms of Service at any time. We will provide notice of any changes by posting the new terms on the Bot's official support server or GitHub repository. Your continued use of the Bot after any changes constitutes your acceptance of the updated terms.

9. Contact Information
